THE FINISH AT HAWTHORNE.

Hawthorne closed its gates for the season Saturday night after its thirty-sixth day of racing. That the sport is in healthy condition is manifest for 4000 persons attended the wind-up of the meeting, and there were on twenty bookmakers, all but two of which were in the big ring. Never before at Chicago has there been, so late in the year, so many visiting horse-men and sporting men of the better class, and that such will continue their stay in the north during the next few weeks and be found at the Harlem track, there is no doubt. The day was a splendid one with cloudless sky, cool air and little wind. The track was dry but very heavy. The Autumn Handicap, 1 1/4 miles, for three-year-olds and upwards, worth $980 to the winner, $200 to second and $100 to third, was disappointing as to the number of starters, but the "2 to 1 take your pick, Dare II., Basquil and Forte," at which the betting opened, presaged a fine contest. Mr. Corrigan's Sardonic was the outsider at 4 to 1. "Cass" Sloan, sitting with legs dangling from the top of a box stall in the paddock, during the Huffman sale had bought Dare II. for $1,450. He laughingly said: "I have no mount in the stake race to-day so I'll buy a horse and ride him myself." John Huffman stipulated before the sale that he must have one-half the money Dare II. might win in the Autumn Handicap, and added "There is no fourth money." Huffman had engaged Dupee to ride Dare II. and the auctioneer announced that the new owner would be expected to retain the black boy, but as "Cass" rode his new purchase, Dupee was up on Sardonic, "Skeets" Martin riding Forte and Hothersall Basquil. The latter, supposed to have run away after finishing second in his last race, was said to be in the finest possible fix, as his covering the odd distance was only a workout. "Basquil," said his party, "is only a selling player, but there are no Hamburgs in this stake race." Basquil was breezed a fast eighth in going to the post, and this didn't do him much good, as cantered to the gate he might possibly have had enough left to have beaten Dare II. at the finish. Basquil went out at flag fall and led Dare II. two lengths ("Cass" was here nipping his horse) at the first half, where Sardonic and Forte were four lengths away. Around the turn and into the backstretch Forte was last and whipping. Basquil led by two lengths at the mile, but here Dupee set Sardonic agoing, and Mr. Corrigan (who had just arrived at the course) had the satisfaction of seeing his filly go to the front on the inside and Dupee saving all the ground possible. Sardonic galloped the balance of the way and won as she pleased. "Cass" Sloan saved his horse for the homestretch, and in a hard drive to the last eighth Dare II. drew away and beat Basquil an open length. Forte was beaten off.

Dulac, a 100 to 1 chance, led Paul Griggs—an even money favorite in the first race—all the way, but was beaten from the last eighth home by George Lee. Paul Griggs finished third, Chauncey Fisher fourth, well up. Banished was opposite the betting ring, last of all the horses. The winner as usual started slowly and was ten lengths behind the leaders up the backstretch. Second Chance ran close to Paul Griggs for one half mile. The gate needed grease. As Bruen touched it off the side next the outside fence did not go up and H. Martin, on Paul Griggs, barely managed to duck and escape being hung.

Montgomery broke in front to a fair start for all except Farley, and at once opened a gap leading, Marzella second by ten lengths into the straight and galloping home alone. Borden, always third, had a tight game of it with Marzella for five-eighths, Huffman's filly leading him to this point where dying off Borden won second place easily and Afamada coming strong just beat Marzella for the third money. Ruskin finished fifth. Babieca was again up at the sixteenth post. Farley broke through the barrier on one occasion.

Espionage got the purse in the fourth race, but Teutons beat her on the post by a head. Espionage had gone out in front, attended by Harry Nutter, the last named being a close second at the quarter, where he began to drop back, and at the finish was a bad fourth, being four lengths behind Judge Wofford, who was fifteen lengths worse than Espionage and Teutons. Judge Wofford headed Espionage at three-eighths, but the favorite went on and at once opened a gap. Be True was third at the half, but soon died away. On the upper turn Espionage was many lengths ahead of Judge Wofford, he four lengths better than anything else. All at once from away behind W. Dean shot up Teutons and Tom Barrett's son of Teuton closed amazingly fast and into the homestretch had headed Judge Wofford. As Bloss on the favorite had slowed down Ezell's crack filly, Teutons, got to her head at the final eighth and an instant later showed in front on the outside by a neck. The horses were in the center of the track when Bloss went to work, and clear in to the wire it was a grand struggle, first the nose of the filly showing in front, then that of the colt. Passing the judges Teutons won on the nod. The youngsters were now close to the inside rail and Bloss was lucky that he wasn't thrown over the fence. Teutons' number went up, but a claim of foul being allowed, that of Espionage was substituted. The foul was so apparent that but little dissatisfaction was expressed, and this by the players of long shots, persons naturally sore when joy is changed to despair. Judge Wofford was placed second and Harry Nutter third. The exhibition of the latter was frightful; he at one start having run Survivor to a head. Judge Wofford, in the stable of Duke & Wishard, was evidently a "bottled up good thing." The colt was backed from 75 down to 40 to 1, and paid (post price) 8 to 1 place, 3 to 1 to show.

There never was such a jumping race run in the west as the Full Course Steeplechase won by the 4 to 5 favorite, Master Fred. Once in the east, in the old days, there was a "job," and in order for the favorite to win the jockeys of the other contestants either fell off their horses or sent them wrong, and the race yesterday looked very like the same sort of thing, as Master Fred was the only horse that did not meet with an accident. Nobilis had taken command to a good start for all except Bob Again (a horse that balked at the second jump, as did Teulada), and opened several lengths on Marble, taking the water jump the first round ten lengths in front. Marble ten lengths better than Master Fred. At the seventh fence Marble had got to within three lengths of Nobilis, and Master Fred fifteen lengths away, was many lengths ahead of Uncle Jim. Colonist had bolted, going around the first time, but was working the course in the rear. Across the water the second time Marble was leading Nobilis by three lengths, while Uncle Jim was nearing Master Fred. Nobilis fell over the next obstacle and away went Marble nearly a sixteenth of a mile ahead of Master Fred. Around the far turn Marble seemed to be working alone, but Master Fred was being caught by Uncle Jim. It was apparently only a question of which of the last named pair would get the place. A moment later and Marble took the place. A moment later and Marble took the place. A moment later and Marble took the place.

The horse looked to jump fair and alight all right, but instantly Ray rolled off. In doing so he must have yanked the reins, for Marble did not get more than twenty yards away before the jockey caught and remounted him. Such a howl as arose from the thousands that saw Ray's exhibition of horsemanship has never before been heard hereabouts. Uncle Jim had crossed the last fence slightly in the lead of Master Fred and his backers were wild with joy and yelling like mad. But again there was a shift, for Desota let Uncle Jim swerve, and he ran outside the flags. Stopped, Uncle Jim was galloped back and as he was placed in the course along came Colonist, and for an eighth of a mile made it doubtful whether or not Uncle Jim would get third money. When Marble fell and Uncle Jim "ran out" Master Fred galloped on and he finished twenty lengths better than Marble, the winner being pulled to a walk. Uncle Jim, third, was a like distance behind Marble and beat Colonist several lengths. So ended a most remarkable steeplechase. To complicate matters there is a probability that Master Fred, under a strict ruling, might have been disqualified, as if he did not leap over the wing of the water jump the eye of the writer is at fault. However, the horses were placed as they finished and bets stand. Canadian steeplechase owners have always been viewed with suspicion—that is, such men as have raced horses around Chicago. Marble's previous races here would not indicate that he could outrun his field as he did yesterday. Now the horse was backed by somebody, and whether he was trying or not will always be an open question. As Ray, his jockey, walked along the track returning to the paddock the cries which greeted him from the betting ring and lawn were anything but complimentary to the jockey.

There was another "angle" to the race. J. T. ("Jim") Williams appeared on the program as the owner of Populist. It appears that this veteran turfman lately replevined the horse from the man, Martin, who has raced him here. Williams gave $3,000 bond for the horse, but some legal papers being served during the day. Judge Rees thought that should Populist run and win money the Racing Association might be tangled up legally and so excused Populist just before the first race of the day.

At the Huffman sale Marzella went to J. W. Conley for $550. The bidding was animated when What-er-Lou was offered. W. P. Magrane outlasting F. W. Doss and getting the horse for $4,050. What-er-Lou is engaged in the Fenelon Handicap at Harlem. Found was bought for $1,600 by D. Schneider, while C. Sloan became the new owner of Dare II for $1,450.

The sale of the yearlings of Mr. Bate is postponed until Tuesday next. Then the lot of thirteen head—good lookers, by the way, and in fine condition—will be offered in the paddock at Harlem. The sale of Huffman's lot of horses in training occupied the attention of horsemen until the racing began and forced Mr. Bate to postpone his sale.

The sport wound up with a race for bad horses which was won easily by Con Reagan, Inuendo as easily second, Amanda third. Prestar was fourth.

"Kit" Chinn arrived at the track in time to see the jumping race. He has been visiting at Grand Rapids and leaves for his Kentucky home today.

Judge Rees leaves today for Louisville. Frank Ireland was a visitor.

GOSSIP OF THE TURF.

Of the fate of the mutuels at Latonia the Enquirer says:

"The mutuel machines have been once more stored away until some time in the indefinite future. The Latonia management announced some time ago that at the current meeting the public meeting would be given an opportunity to 'make their own odds,' and to that end the mutuel machines were put on at the opening of the meeting. There were three machines in line for the first two or three days, but the play in them was not sufficiently great to realize anything like running expenses from the 5 per cent commission charged. No attempt of any kind was made to discourage the public from playing in them, but it was evident from the first that they would not take. People would stand around and complain about the odds offered in the books, but instead of trying to remedy the evil of which they complained so much by going to the mutuels and playing on a 5 per cent basis, they continued to do their betting in the books for the single reason that they wanted to know when they bet just what odds they were getting against their money. The management to reduce expenses took off two of the machines, but even then the commissions on the play were not sufficient to pay the salaries of the force required to operate the machines, and finally, after a trial of eleven days at a considerable loss, the mutuels were abandoned entirely yesterday." Of the business done by the machines the Commercial-Tribune says: "In the eleven days in which the mutuels were in vogue they handled $13,926, or about $1,265 each day. Of the total amount the association received $395 in commissions, barely covering the operating expenses."

Tom McDowell's good two-year-old filly Rush, who ran second in the Zoo Zoo Stakes Thursday, had a narrow escape from serious injury in the race. During some part of it, or while at the post, she was jumped on and was cut near the right hind tendon. The blow was a glancing one, and had it struck squarely on the tendon it would probably have closed her racing career. — Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

W. J. Smith, the owner of Queen of Song, winner of the Zoo Zoo Stakes, would now have two of Latonia's stakes to his credit if his foresight had been as good as his hindsight. Mr. Smith, before the beginning of the season, also had in his string the speedy Lord Hartington colt, Judge Tarvin, who won the Kimball Stakes on the third day of the meeting. He considered the filly the better of the two, and having at the outset of the season decided to sell one of his two-year-olds, he disposed of Judge Tarvin to Rome Respass. — Cincinnati Enquirer.

J. S. Curtis has registered with Messrs. Weatherby the following names: Yuletide, for br. c. 2, by Badge—Yseult, and Tudesque, for ch. f. 2, by Knight of Ellerslie—Tudie. For yearlings, Miss Pry, for bay filly by Meddler—Et-tarre; Obtrusive, for chestnut filly, by Meddler—Orizaba; Douche, by Knight of Ellerslie—Sprinkle; Waste, for chestnut filly, by Knight of Ellerslie—Squander; Lady's Favor, for bay filly by Knight of Ellerslie—Diadem; Han-overia, for bay filly, by Hanover—Elsino; Tristano, for chestnut colt, by Tristan—Zerlina; Meddlesome She, for bay filly, by Meddler—Sheboygan, and Cadran, for chestnut colt, foaled 1898, by St. Leonards—Sundial. J. E. Madden has registered The Chamberlain II, for yearling bay colt by Light—Buckeye.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Lonnie Clayton rode Warrenton in the third race at Morris Park Friday. After passing the scales a speculator, who thought Warrenton should have won, addressed an abusive remark to the jockey who promptly lashed him across the face drawing blood. For his promptness the judges fined him $200. They should have gone farther and had the man who insulted an honest jockey put out of the grounds.

The death of Traverser has caused the excessive amount of racing required of the good colt to be brought to the front properly enough but in passing it may be remarked that there are others that are not allowed to eat the oats of idleness to any remarkable extent. There is the case of Espionage, for instance. She won October 6, ran unplaced October 10, won October 12, won October 14, won October 15, and is down to run again October 17. She is certainly required to pay her way about as harshly as Traverser ever was.

Winning the Middle Park Plate will probably serve to make the American bred colt, Caiman, the winter favorite for the Epsom Derby, since that is a distinction usually awarded the winner of what has been called 'The Two-Year-Old Derby.' The Middle Park Plate is always contested by the recognized crack two-year-olds of the year, and it is a hard race to win. It is at six furlongs and is usually worth from $12,000 upwards. Caiman is by Locohatchee—Happy Day and is evidently a good one. Besides his last and greatest success he recently won the rich Clearwell Stakes at Newmarket.

Winner—B. h. by Fonso—Workmate.
Start good. Ben Eder outran the others on the flat, but fenced poorly. Marshall's superior speed on the flat also served to beat Governor Budd, who ran his race. Eclid is of no account. Forget ran a very bad race today. The excuse was offered for her that her back was strained in her last race.
Scratched—Moslem, 154.
Ben Eder, place, 8 to 5; show, 1 to 2. Marshall, place, 4 to 5; show, 1 to 3.

Winner—B. f. by Charaxus—Calash.
Start good. Won easily. Charina was best and was perfectly handled and held together. She liked the muddy course. Banquo II is at his best and finished gamely. Double Quick was saved the first part and closed strong at the end. He is improving right along. Decanter can not negotiate the hill route and dislikes mud. He is very good and should be watched elsewhere. Squan is inferior. Manassas is not at home in the mud. He tired after going a half.

Winner—B. f. by Miser—Monte Rosa.
Start fair. Won easily. The Rose was best and is of fair class. She was bumped and interfered with at the eighth pole, yet finished gamely and can beat better ones. Composer stopped at the end as if it was too far for him, and besides he is best in fast going. Imitation closed strongly as usual. The others are a very bad lot.
Scratched—Favonius, 112; Great-Neck, 112; Neuberger, 112; Ordeal, 109; Amorita, 109; St. Sophia, 109.

Winner—Br. c. by Longstreet—Brunette.
Start fair. Won driving. Lothario was best in the going and at the weights. He is a stayer and a very promising colt. Filigrane appeared to be a sure winner in the stretch, but got weak handling at the end. He is a greatly improved colt. Manuel is best over a fast track. King Barleycorn was nearly left. Turner failed to keep him straight the last quarter and he swerved badly. Captain Sigsbee is a non-stayer, but he is very fresh and good. Dr. Parker was out-classed.
Scratched—Toluca, 122; Sir Hubert, 122; Dr. Eichberg, 122.

Winner—Br. g, by St. George—Levee.
Post 2 minutes. Start good. Won handily at the end; second and third whipped out George Lee liked the going and ran a corking good race. He displayed great gameness. At the post, just before the start, he was badly kicked and pulled up with a big gash in his knee, which was bleeding freely. Dulac furnished a great surprise. He revealed in the mud and opened up a big gap down the backstretch. He did not stop to any great extent either when the pinch came. Paul Griggs seems to be of little or no present account. He got off well on his stride and had no excuses whatever. The winner was on the extreme outside all the way and ran much the best race. The first four were the only contenders all the way.

Winner—Ch. g, by Hanover—Blessing.
Post 5 minutes. Start good for all but Babieca. Won easily up; second with something left; third and fourth driving. Montgomery was far the best in the going. He spreadeagled his field and was pulling up the last three furlongs. Afamada, off in a pocket and badly interfered with, ran a good race. Ruskini was gaining ground at the finish. He, too, is a mudlark. Lord Zeni got into a mixup at the start ruining whatever chance he had. Babieca, heavily played, acted badly at the post. This colt is worth watching. Farley could not get out of his own way.
Scratched—Diggs, 110; Pitfall, 104; Nicholas, 104; Elidid, 104.

Winner—B. f, by Morelio—Sardonyx.
Post 1 minute. Start fair. Won easily up; second and third driving hard. Sardonic liked the going and was a good filly today. She galloped under a stout pull all the way. Dupee took matters easily and let the filly run as she wanted to. Dare II, ridden by her new owner ran gamely. He had a hard task to beat Basquil for the place from the head of the stretch home. The latter set the pace but it was not a fast one and he about ran his race. He was trying to carry too much weight for such a long route and over so heavy a track. Forte ran a bad race.
Overweights—Forte, 4 pounds.

Winner—B. f, by Inspector B—Sun Maid.
Post 2 minutes. Start good. The first two were driving to the limit. So was the third horse driving. There was a bumping match from the sixteenth post home. As the race was run Teutons was the best today. Had Dean been able to hold him straight through the stretch, it is almost certain he would have beaten Espionage. When he came to the filly at the eighth post, he seemed to be going much stronger than she. Espionage, however, was the best seasoned and ran game and true, while the colt, who may have been a trifle short, bore in, carrying the filly with him. The pair was far ahead of the others. Judge Wofford stopped badly after going three quarters. Still, he was far enough in front at that point to get third place.
Scratched—Survivor, 107.

Judge Wofford, place, 8 to 1; show, 3 to 1.

Time, 4:51.
Winner—Ch. g, by Macduff—Silken Banns.
Post 5 minutes. Start good. The race was a farce. Master Fred looked hopelessly beaten where Marble was fully a sixteenth of a mile in front. Ray, however, either from over anxiety, or purposely, fell over Marble's head. He had a stout hold of the bridle and remounted, getting the place. Uncle Jim went wrong after taking the last fence, but Desota turned back, came the right way and got third place. Master Fred was always outrun.

Post 3 minutes. Start good. Won in a gallop; second and third were doing their best. Con Reagan liked the going and the further they went the greater gap he opened on his field. Dean had a strong hold of his head and the colt won running away. Inuendo ran a good race. So did Amanda, considering the rough journey she had. Lucy Belle appeared a trifle lame, and never showed any startling turn of speed. Teutonna bled and was pulled up.
